A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU

CHANGES

Sometimes people get upset when things change. Take, for example, the stock market that reacts to even the smallest of fluctuation in the national and world economy. Social and political implications send the shrewdest of investor running for cover. It is said that if you do not have the constitution for “weathering the storms of investing” you should stick to less volatile savings instruments such as Certificates of Deposit (CD’s).

There will be some minor changes today. I am attending the East Tennessee School of Preaching lectures this week. Terry Dow will speak for me this morning and Jim Hobbs will speak this evening. Todd Hinson will teach my class on Wednesday.

As you know, the Elders and I will be bringing a series of lessons on Christian Stewardship. They are asking the Teen and Adult classes to meet in the auditorium for this series. This is an excellent time for us to study these concepts since our theme for 2008 is “Living For Jesus.” Christian Stewardship could be defined as exactly that: “Living for Jesus.” This study skillfully applies the concept found in 1 Corinthians 6:19-20, that we are not our own. We belong to the Lord.

Hopefully you will come to this class with a mind eager to learn what our Lord wants us to know concerning how we can live for Him and not feel inconvenienced with change.

Paul

Elders Corner:

“Sowing the Seed of the Kingdom”

Recently I was reading from the website of one of the children we have grown to know and love while Meredith has been treated at Duke Hospital and saw the response many from this congregation have made to this family and others on the Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Unit. Your many acts of caring and kindness to our family and all these others have been greatly appreciated.

Another important thing has occurred. You have been “sowing the seed of the kingdom”. Each time you mentioned in your notes to the families that you were members of Warners Chapel Church of Christ, you were planting seed. At least two of the families who have received notes have acknowledged where they came from. We will never know how many people have read your notes and their responses through the powerful medium of the internet. Someone, somewhere may be influenced to investigate what the church is and find the truth that is revealed to us in God’s word.

Thank you again for your good work.

Joe Everett
