A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU

JUNE 15, 2008

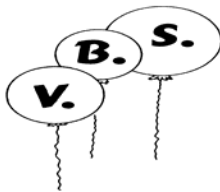

Where Are You Located?

In making the transition from South Carolina to our home in North Carolina, Jane and I have had several opportunities to ask businesses, “Where are you located?” Everyone has been polite and helpful. Yet, when they give us their location we still have to ask, “How do we get there?” Again, they give us directions and if we follow them correctly we arrive at the desired location in a reasonable amount of time.

You know, it’s similar in becoming a Christian. People need to know how to become a child of God. If they know who to ask, then they can get directions to that desired location, the Lord’s body, or, the church. People just need to know who to ask. If we are living a life that reflects Christ, and people see that, then they will know to ask us. Certainly we, as Christians need to know where we stand with God, but we need to also be able to answer when others ask us that question, “Where are you located?”
