SEVEN HABITS OF HIGHLY EFFECTIVE CHRISTIANS

The idea for this article came from the book, “The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People” by Stephen R. Covey in 1989. Perhaps you’ve seen a book with a similar title in the bookstores. The idea is to give people insight into how to live more successfully.

Habit #1 - Live and work to reach others each day as if you knew the world would end next Sunday night.

Habit #2 - Be enthusiastic about the church and its services as if there were an overflow crowd each time.

Habit #3 - Count your blessings by making a list of the things you are thankful to God for. Thank Him for them one by one as you offer to Him your prayers!

Habit #4 - Make and maintain a list of your faults and pray for forgiveness and help to overcome them.

Habit #5 - Read your Bible and meditate on what you read. Set aside thirty minutes every day to spend with God in prayer, Bible study and meditate.

Habit #6 - Visit someone each week. Visit some member you don’t know very well or someone who is sick or someone who visited worship services or a member who needs encouragement or a prospective Christian.

Habit #7 - Reach another person. Conduct a Bible study in your home and invite your relatives and neighbors. The elders and the preacher will help you.

I’m sure others could think of different habits to add to this list. Hopefully, these will help you not only to say but to do those things that will make you a more highly effective Christian.

ELDERS CORNER

In the Caring and Compassion Workshop that was held at Warners Chapel many years ago, a statement was made that was very powerful and sobering. It was said that every single one of us is either in the middle of a crisis, coming out of a crisis or about to head into a crisis. We can simply read our weekly bulletin and see the reality of that as it is evident in the challenges that our Christian family is facing.

That's not meant to be depressing but it is said to make us all aware of the challenges that every member of Warners Chapel, as well as those we come into contact with daily, may be facing. It is often said that some people bring their work home with them which more often than not doesn't mean the actual work but they bring home the challenges of their day. Sadly, we sometimes take out our job frustrations on those that we love and that are closest to us.

Our church life can be similar. Some take it personally if someone doesn't speak to them but it may be absolutely nothing more than their minds are focused on the concerns in their lives or that of their family. We don't always know the difficulties facing the lives of our brothers and sisters in Christ.

Right now, perhaps more than ever, is the time for this Christian family at Warners Chapel to come together. Paul has moved to Oklahoma. Frank is very ill. This Christian family has shared laughs and cries together and now we all need to encourage one another and lift one another up because no matter what happens in this world we can be assured of our eternal destiny in heaven as faithful Christians. That's powerful. That's awesome. Those are words of great encouragement.

Our theme is ideal for this year as we stand by Jesus, stand by one another and support one another in love.

Psalm 91:2 (NKJV) I will say of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in Him I will trust."
