Gospel Meeting

Our Gospel Meeting with Jeff Trotter is just three weeks away. I hope that you have set aside the time to attend every meeting. If you haven't, I think that it is “about time” that you did. Here is a preview of his topics.

Sunday Class – It's about time

Sunday AM – It's about time I see myself the way God does.

Sunday PM – It's about time I got serious about God.

Monday – It's about time we went back to the future.

Tuesday – It's about time I finally face my favorite sin.

Wednesday – It's about time I tell someone about Jesus.

Thursday – It's about time I decided to go to heaven.

Paul

ELDERS CORNER:

On October 20th and 21st Warners Chapel will be hosting a Financial Seminar sponsored by Freed-Hardeman University. On Saturday morning there will be a ½ day seminar led by brother Kyle Lamb. Kyle is a native of Southern Indiana and graduated from Freed-Hardeman University with business finance degree in 2000 and an MBA in 2011. He is a Certified Financial Planner and has spent most of his career specializing in providing financial planning services to alumni and friends of Freed-Hardeman University. He also spent two years working as a financial advisor for a large brokerage firm. He is currently the Assistant Vice-President for Regional Development at Freed-Hardeman University, where he leads the office in structuring financial planning techniques and strategies to meet the needs and desires of donors, alumni and friends of the university.

This seminar is free and nothing is being sold. We also hope to have a financial aid representative from Freed-Hardeman to assist in how to pay for college. In the afternoon, there will be 5 one hour private counseling sessions offered to help families with their individual financial planning. A signup sheet will be placed on the bulletin board. Again, nothing is being sold during this seminar.

On Sunday, brother Frank Williams, the Director of Church Relations for Freed-Hardeman University, will be speaking during the Bible class period on “How God Views Finances” and he will also be delivering a sermon entitled “Christian Education.” We look forward to the participation of the congregation.

Article IV

Are You Servant to the Lender?

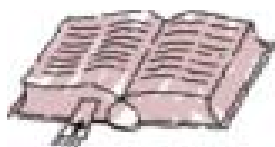

The Bible is quite clear on the subject of debt: “Pay all your debts”. “Let no debt remain outstanding”. “Owe no man anything”. So why, then, do so many of us utilize debt to pay for what we want and need? While Scripture is quite clear on debt, the Bible does not answer the question of when we should borrow money. We should each have a goal of paying off all of our debt, but in the meantime, the following guidelines should help determine “proper” debt:

1. The value of the item is at least equal to or greater than the amount of debt owed.
2. The item is an asset with the potential of increasing in value over time or producing income.
3. The debt is not so great that the repayment causes extreme pressure on the budget.

We read in Proverbs 22:7, “The rich rules over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender” (NKJV). If we are in severe debt, we will be ruled by our lenders and not by our God. Today more than ever before, we are inundated with incentives to borrow money and told that getting out of debt is easy. Either way, we lose and the lender wins. Managing our money means having a handle on our debt. The apostle Paul writes in I Corinthians 7:23, “You were bought at a price; do not become slaves of men” (NKJV).

A SHORT STORY

One day a young man found five dollars between the ties of a railroad track. From that time, he never took his eyes off the ground as he walked. In thirty years he picked up 25,916 buttons, 62,172 pins, 7 pennies, a bent back, a sour disposition, and a miserable outlook on life.

In finding all this, he lost the smiles of his friends, the song of the birds, the beauties of nature, the opportunity to serve his fellowman.

How many of us in our search for life pass up more than we find.
