"Are We Doing What We Can?"

The story is told of a burial detail at Bataan, during World War Two, that found a poem on the body of a nineteen year old from Indiana who lost his life in a bloody battle. "And if our lines should sag and break because of things you failed to make, that extra tank, that ship, that plane for which we waited all in vain: will you then come to take the blame? For we, not you, must pay the cost, for battles you, not we have lost." This was an indictment of industrial absenteeism, and the young man was right because Bataan and many lives were lost for failure on the home front.

Will your children die because you failed them on the home front? Teaching and being an example must accompany each other, and if you fail to do one or the other, the end result will not be as happy as it would have been with both.

Don't let your children go into spiritual warfare without the right support from home.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH

When we look around us and see people who have been in the church for years, yet have never grown any spiritually, we wonder what is wrong. We know that if a child's physical body should cease to grow, every effort would be made to consult the most skilled physicians; the cause would be found and the cure administered. Yet every day we see Christians whose spiritual growth is at a standstill. Many of us are prone to think that it is sufficient to learn enough about the gospel to complete our obedience and be added to the church. We also need to know how to live in the church and again the scriptures are our guide. We are to "Study to show ourselves approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed; handling aright the word of truth." If we study the Bible prayerfully and diligently, "We will ever be ready to give a reason for the hope that lieth in us."

We are told in the scriptures to "grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." It might be well for us to ask ourselves the question — Am I growing in the grace and knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ? If we aren't learning more the Master's will as we travel along life's pathway, then we are falling short of our duty. Let us resolve to study the scriptures every day and watch a steady spiritual growth in our homes and in our congregation.

"Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." - Rev. 2:10
