— THE LOCUST —

"The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands". (Prov. 30:27).

It is significant that the locusts do their work by bands without a king or leader. They have a work to do, and in their eagerness to do it, need no commander. The impelling force of a true heart is, duty demands it.

The child in the home that must be driven is an unruly one. The student that must be made to do is undesirable. The locust brings us the important lesson of "how",--willingly. How light are the burdens of life and how easy its duties when borne and done by willing hands.

This is the higher lesson in the spiritual realm. "If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine" is from the teaching of the Master. "They were willing of themselves," "If there first be a willing mind," "If I do this thing willingly," are statements from the apostle to the Gentiles. "And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" expresses the limit of God's power to save.

- WEDDING BELLS -

Last night, Ray Moser and Peggy Jones were married at Bethesda Moravian church.

One week ago last night, Sandy Ridings and Lorraine Hampton were united at Bro. Johnson's home.

We wish for each of these couples much happiness.

- LOVE AND HATE -

The emotions of love and hate are God-given, and are useful when held within proper bounds; but when emotions overrun reason and justice, great evil results.

- THE CONY -

"The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make their houses in the rocks." (Prov. 30:26).

The little cony, helpless and defenseless, is a prey to other animals about it. But with its feeble hands it makes a safe home in the rocks.

This is a wonderful lesson for the human family, the place "where". Most of the troubles of life are caused by someone getting out of his place. An accident upon the highway: some one got out of his place. A bank is robbed: someone out of his place. How important to learn early in life our place and then be in it.

These temporal lessons pale into insignificance when compared to eternal interests. There is a safe place for every responsible being to occupy as the days are passing. It is safe to be in the fold of Christ, the church, hearing the voice of the shepherd.

- EIGHT OBJECTIONS TO -
- HUMAN CREEDS -

1. They are not inspired of god.
2. They do not meet the needs of the entire world.
3. They are not perfect.
4. They need revision every few years.
5. We will not be judged by them.
6. They set aside and make void the word of God.
7. They teach many things contrary to God's Word.
8. They promote division.
