“MORE STUDENTS AT NCSBS”

Our fifth NCSBS student is Allan Knight. Almost everyone knows Allan because he is a member here at Warner’s Chapel. Allan is from Lexington, NC, and was born Mar. 25th, 1991. He is a graduate of North Davidson County High School He has one older sister. He has several hobbies and interests, some of which include: working out, participating in sports (especially football and basketball), music, and being with his friends.

Allan wants to be involved most in doing the Lord’s work, which is one of the reasons he became a student at NCSBS. Being a faithful gospel preacher is his goal and he sees it as a way of being able to be most effective in serving God. One reason for choosing NCSBS was because of its proximity to home. There are a couple of things Allan has stated that he loves: 1) the congregation at Warner’s Chapel; 2) Bob Plunk’s grilled chicken. Be sure to encourage Allan in his efforts to become a faithful gospel preacher.

Actually, remember all our students as they strive to learn here at NCSBS. Remember however that there are more than these five who attend regular classes. There are five students in the Women’s Courses. We also have four Thursday night students. There are also two part-time students and five “distance learning” students who are taking courses on-line. But wait, there are also 30 students enrolled at “satellite schools.” That gives us a total of fifty-one, that’s right, fifty-one students taking courses from the North Carolina School of Biblical Studies! It is a tremendous work, and you, the congregation at Warner’s Chapel make it possible. May God continue to bless us so that this good work will continue to grow!

—Frank

ELDERS CORNER:

Neatness Counts

Our appearance speaks long before we open our mouth. It is said that one doesn't get a second chance to make a first impression. That being the case, we should groom ourselves well and practice the art of moderation in dress.

The elders appreciate those that help with services putting forth a good impression by wearing a coat and tie at the table on Sunday.

This also applies to leading singing or public prayer. A tie would be appropriate on Wednesday night for those doing the invitation.

Dressing our best to attend and participate in worship shows honor and respect for God and what He has done for us. We sing a song titled "Give of your best to the Master". The song continues; give Him the best that you have. The bible is full of admonitions to do and give our best at whatever we undertake. This includes our dress as well as our service to the Master.

Men often are called on to fill in for someone who is absent at services and it is good if we are always dressed to put forth a good impression.

OUR SICK: Please remember in your Prayers

David Moore was reported to be ill last Lord's Day and unable to attend worship services.

It was reported that Lyndsey Riddle underwent surgery on her wrist this past week.

Please keep Amanda & Levi in you prayers. Amanda is being admitted into the hospital today (Thursday) due to high blood pressure and her sugar levels being out of control. They would like for her to go at least one more week before taking Levi, but it may depend on her health as they are concerned about her having preeclampsia. She may get to come home tomorrow, but she may have to stay for the duration. Thank you for all of your love and support.
