A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU

MAY 15, 2011

“FRIENDS AND FAMILY DAY”

The secular world understands friendship. James Taylor’s song, “You’ve Got A Friend” is testimony to that fact. That song says in part what a friend is. You just call out my name and I’ll come running. A friend who will do that is truly a friend. Today is “Friends and Family Day” at Warner’s Chapel church of Christ. We want you to know that if you’re visiting with a friend today, there is nothing more that they would like to do than to be your friend by sharing the gospel with you. Friends share things, often sharing the very best that they have with someone. The very best that your friend at Warner’s Chapel has to offer you is the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Family is the other part of today’s celebration. Family ties are about the closest ties a person can have. Family is connected by blood. Perhaps you’re here because a family member asked you to come. Family likes to share the very best that they have to offer as well. Perhaps your family member at Warner’s Chapel church of Christ would like to do the same and share with you the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

You know, the family of God is connected to each other through the blood of Jesus Christ. Because that’s so, the congregation here will celebrate the ties of friends and family by having a dinner after worship in your honor – our friends and family. Please stay and eat with us as we enjoy the good things that come with “Friends And Family Day.”

ELDERS CORNER

A Good Work: Getting Better Because of You

At some time everyone will need a little help. Those with family, close friends, or neighbors are blessed because help is only a phone call away. For some, family and neighbors may not be available to assist them. It is this group that members of this congregation have stepped forward to help through the years. We would like to build on this good work by expanding their efforts to reach senior members of the congregation that need congregational help. There may be a need for light housekeeping, financial tasks, errands, shopping, visiting, yard work, reading, respite care relief, spiritual support, telephone reassurance, transportation, or something else. There are approximately 30 of our members that may be in need of assistance. In the near future these members will be contacted to discuss their needs. Bill Carothers will be the contact person to coordinate this work.

We will need you to lend your special talents to help out. You may be the right person at the right time to change a light bulb, rake a yard, or pick up a prescription from the pharmacy. You may want to work with a group to accomplish a larger task.

We will start out slowly as we learn to coordinate needs with various talents. Our goal is to glorify God through helping others in the household of faith.

Reminder:

Today will be our last opportunity to contribute to the Mission Trip to India and to the Alabama Tornado Relief Fund. (D.C. Mock & Andy Santiago will leave May 19th for India.)

If you can help financially with the Mission Trip or with the Disaster Relief Fund, please write your check to Warners Chapel and place it in the appropriate envelope you will find on the credenza in the foyer.
