JUST A PINCH

I had a daily radio broadcast when I worked in South Carolina. It was called a "Moment Of Reflection" and lasted 60 seconds. This is a manuscript of one of those broadcasts.

It was going to be a very busy day. There seemed to be strings attached to every minute. Hardly time for my morning devotions, I thought as I thanked God for His goodness and briefly shared problems and joys. Arising from my knees, I realized I had been talking to God, but thinking of other things.

This realization remained throughout the day--a day that didn't go too well. God had given me 24 hours, and I'd spared Him just a pinch of time, much as in the days of the Old West when many men carried a bag of gold dust and bargained for things they needed with a pinch of dust from the bag. For all God's benefits, I'd given him a pinch of my day.

God must get a lot of pinches, I thought. A pinch of time; a pinch of money; a pinch of prayer; a pinch of concern for His children; a pinch of worship; a pinch of loyalty; a pinch of love. But I've noticed that when troubles come we turn to God and ask for more than a pinch of His help.

God is so good to me. From now on I'm going to try to give Him a fairer exchange.

Have a great day!

Paul

ELDERS CORNER:

Another letter from a graduate of ZSOBS stating his plans when he returns home.

From Amon Matokwani to the school director.

I would like to appreciate for your dedication and sacrifice in this ministry, for the work you have been doing, to teach and support us for two years.

I am married with four children, we are six all together. I congregate at Matepeta Church of Christ in Matepeto Village, Kazungula district. The purpose of coming here to train as a preacher has been my zeal ever since I became a Christian, for self improvement and helping others too. While during holidays the illiterate people had requested me to help them to be teaching them how to write and read, and I have been helping in that area. Now, since I have finished this race, I believe that I am going to be more committed to lead God's people to the knowledge of God's word. So in short, I will be preaching and teaching. It is so, because we have few schools which are found in long distances and this resulted in ceasing of schooling. Therefore, there are many Christians who do not know how to read and write, of which so far I have helped only two who stay near my home. That's all I can say, Thank you,
