A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU

JULY 4, 2010

“What Did I Miss...?”

There once was a very successful businessman who depended heavily on his sales staff to bring in the revenue. For three years his sales staff made him rich and he had a very large profit margin. The staff got a small raise each year but it seemed that outside of that the boss didn't share the wealth they had helped to create. He kept promising that sometime in the fourth year he would throw a large banquet and there would be a surprise for each person who showed up. But because of his seemingly “stingy” ways his sales staff was very skeptical of what the banquet dinner would consist of and they even joked that the surprise would be that they didn't have to clean up the kitchen after the banquet.

As the banquet drew closer people began to talk about not attending the “supposed” banquet and certainly did not think there would be much of a surprise. They realized they got a fair wage but they didn't feel like it reflected their hard work. The day drew closer and more and more of the sales staff talked about not going.

The night finally arrived and very few of the sales staff showed up. The businessman was there and he let those in attendance know that he realized they had not been paid what they were worth, so for those who were in attendance, he asked them to look under their plates. To their surprise each person who was there found a cashier's check made out to them in the amount of $3,000 .00. He thanked them for their hard work and told them that by attending the dinner and remaining faithful enough to show up, they deserved what they had received. They enjoyed one of the best steak dinners they had ever had. What a surprise! The next morning those who hadn't attended asked those who had “What did I miss?”

If you, as a Christian, are not faithful unto death (Rev.2:10), what will you miss?

— Frank
