THE CAMPING EXPERIENCE

One week of Bible camp has closed and another week is about to begin. The camping experience is one that is quite a unique experience. We all have homes that have nice comfortable beds and all the modern conveniences that go with them. So what is the allure to leave all these comforts behind and venture off to the forest?

1. The fresh air [Unfortunately Carolina Bible Camp is next to a cattle farm, so there is not much "fresh" air].

2. The sunshine [At Palmetto Bible Camp there are so many trees that there isn't much sunshine.]

3. Freedom of the outdoors [Yes, you are free to get mosquito bitten (West Nile?) and the dreaded "attack of the ticks" (Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, Lyme disease?)

There is much we can add to this list but this is sufficient. The above are minor annoyances that campers and staff alike put up with to provide a TV free, radio-free, CD free environment so that we can all focus on spiritual matters. I hope you are joining me this week at camp. Keep us in your prayers for our safe return.

By the way, did I mention the really thin mattresses?

Paul

ELDERS CORNER:

ALCOHOL

In 2004, thirty-five percent of traffic deaths that occurred in North Carolina were alcohol related (Mothers Against Drunk Driving, <http://www.madd.org/>). The National Center for Health Statistics reports that in the year 2003, sixty-one percent of adults had drunk alcohol during that year. Thirty-two percent of all drinkers in 2003 reported that they had had five or more drinks in one single day. The NCHS also reports for the same year, that the “number of alcohol-induced deaths, excluding accidents and homicides, was 19,928”.

W. E. Vine’s Dictionary of New Testament Words says concerning the term drunkenness used in the New Testament: “Marking the process of the state expressed, to become intoxicated, That means that drunkenness is a process. Does “being drunk” mean one is three drinks drunk, or four drinks drunk? Who decides? Many states have decided that the blood alcohol level present in the bloodstream cannot be more than 8 hundredths of one percent. After this point one is legally impaired.

During the summer months, there seems to be increased opportunities for our young people to obtain alcohol. I ask you, “Why put yourself at risk?” According to the above-mentioned statistics, when one imbibes in alcohol, there is an increased risk that one might be injured or killed in a traffic accident, or one might participate in a crime—since one’s judgment is impaired—that leaves one shot or stabbed to death.

The previous information notwithstanding. God does not want you to participate in recreational or social use of alcohol. Proverbs 20:1 says, “Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.” The wise person will avoid alcohol if he wishes to please God.
