"MARY HAD A LITTLE BOY"

"A Nursery Rhyme For Parents"

Mary had a little boy, his soul seemed white as snow. He never went to Sunday School 'cause Mary wouldn't go. He missed the Bible stories that thrill the child-like mind, while other children went to class this boy was left behind. And as he grew from babe to youth, Mary, to her dismay, saw the soul that once seemed white, was turning dingy gray. Knowing now that he was lost, she tried to win him back Alas! The soul of the boy she loved had turned an ugly black. Now Mary goes to Sunday school and stays for preaching too; she begs the preacher, "Isn't there anything you can do?" He tries and fails and then he says, "We're just too far behind." "You warned me years ago," she cries, "but I would pay no mind." And so another soul is lost, that once was white as snow. He would have gone to Sunday school, but Mary wouldn't go.

"Mary," Sunday school starts at ten on Sunday morning, 8999 Lasater Road. Bring your little boy.

Racism Isn't About Race

By Steve Higginbotham

Don't fool yourself, racism isn't about race. If we were all to wake up in the morning with the same skin color, discrimination wouldn't end. How long do you suppose it would take until we found a new way to discriminate against each other? Would it be eye color, hair color, height, weight, or some other way to differentiate between people? The possibilities are endless, but without question, we'd find a reason.

You see racism isn't really about race at all. It's about an unjustified hatred that some people have allowed to dwell in their hearts. Racism, prejudice, and discrimination have nothing to do with the color of skin, body size, or geographic origin. Racism, pure and simple, is about hatred, and the solution to hatred is so filling one's heart with Jesus there is no room left in which hatred can dwell.

Once again, as is the case with all moral problems, "Jesus is the answer." That's not a trite platitude, but a weighty truth. If you can imagine how much better the world would be without racism, prejudice, and discrimination, then you've caught a glimpse of day to day life in the kingdom of God (Isaiah 11:1-9; James 2:1-9)
